

Here's what happens
when you call

Dogs Trust Behaviour Support Line:

1

Speak to a dog training and behaviour expert

Call anytime between 9:30am-5pm Monday to Saturday and speak to a qualified training and behaviour expert. By listening to you, they'll offer tailored advice and steps you can try straight away. It's a totally free service from one dog lover to another.

Further support if needed

We're here to help strengthen the bond between you and your dog. By offering the right advice early on, we aim to help prevent problems becoming crises. That might mean accessing our Dog School training classes or support from our Community Clinical Animal Behaviour Team. Whatever your concern, we want to help you get back on track.

Expert advice and practical recommendations

The Behaviour Support Line is informed by the latest in dog welfare research and run by experienced professional dog trainers and behaviourists who are on hand to guide you. Our experts regularly help with issues like recall, crate or lead training, excessive barking, fear of other dogs or people, separation anxiety and lots more.

What to do if you own an American Bully XL type

We understand that the Government's announcement of plans to ban American Bully XL type dogs is very upsetting.

We'll do everything we can to support American Bully XL type dogs and their owners. We'll keep you updated as we learn more about the Government's plans.

Join our expert dog trainers for a FREE 45 minute online webinar to help you to introduce your dog to wearing a muzzle
